Jurassic Park (1993) - Welcome to Jurassic Park Scene (1/10) | Movieclips ~~First Footprints The Epic Story~~

They were the first oceanic mariners and this great southern land was their new home. Gigantic mammals roamed the plains and enormous crocodiles, giant snakes and goannas nestled in the estuaries and savannahs. First Footprints tells the epic story of Australia's Aboriginal people. It is a story of ancient life on the driest continent on earth through the greatest environmental changes experienced in human history: ice ages, extreme drought and inundating seas.

First footprints tells its story alluringly from the beginnings, when people first moved out of Africa and made their way to what is now Australia, through thematically and chronologically structured discussions entitled 'Near extinction' (74,000 to 60,000 years ago), 'Supernomads' (60,000 to 30,000 years ago), 'The great drought' (30,000 to 18,000 years ago) and 'The great flood' (from 18,000 years ago).

It was the first virgin continent that modern humans settled and, as Cane illustrates, it was an astounding event. The timing of that event and what led up to it, however, are not (at least not yet) as clearly defined as Cane portrays them. Cane opens First Footprints with an occurrence that most assuredly rocked the world. Around 74,000 years ago Mount Toba in Sumatra exploded in the largest volcanic eruption the world has experienced in the past two million years.

The story of the movement of Aboriginal peoples into what is now Australia some 70,000 years ago and their survival over tens of thousands of years is, as Scott Cane says in this book, truly epic.

Valencia has been making moves toward a green future for years, and sustainability is a pillar of the city's tourism strategy. Visit Valencia, the city's tourism board, recently carried out a study that measured the sources of carbon emissions from tourist activity across ten areas, including water management, waste, transport to and around the city, and accommodation.
