The past is not simply a list of events. Historical records are the means by which

Historians develop their interpretations
of those events.

Because

interpretations
differ, there is no single historical record, but various narrations of events
each told from a different perspective.

Therefore the study
of history is

intimately linked to the study of values,
the values of the
historical actors,
the historians who
have written about them, and of the students engaged in learning about them. The World's History links
chronology, themes,
and geography in eight units, or

History, of study. The Parts move progressively along a time line from the emergence of early humans to the present day. Each

Part emphasizes a single theme--for example,

urbanization or religion or

migration--and

students learn to

Pearson World

use them all to analyze historical events and to develop a grasp of the chronology of human development. The final chapter
employs all the themes developed in the first seven Parts as tools for understanding the history of our own

times.
Geographically,
each Part covers
the entire globe,
although specific topics place greater emphasis on specific regions.
