Give yourself specific time periods for certain jobs, such as 15 minutes or a half an hour, followed by a reward, such as a short break.

Do not let anything interrupt you during this time period. Because it is a short time, it is going to be easier to concentrate on what you are doing, and over time, you will be able to do this for longer periods of time.

Mcguinness Time Management Tips for Creative People

Time management is an ability that someone is born with, but there are very few of them. It is much more likely that it is a learned and acquired skill to be able to meet all goals, both personal and business.

Yet there are certain people who find it harder than others. And those are creative people, artists.

Management is an issue that comes up frequently when I'm advising creative businesses. It seems there's always too much to do, and not enough time to do it. In my view, time management is both a strategic issue and an operational challenge. If we are unrealistic about what can be achieved with finite resources, we
